MEDDRAYSINTELL LAUNCHES ITS QUARTERLY NEWSLETTER

MEDDraysintell, the Strategic Intelligence Expert for the medical radiation industry, is launching today its first quarterly newsletter, providing key facts about Nuclear Medicine, Proton Therapy and Brachytherapy.

Nuclear Medicine, Proton Therapy and Brachytherapy are niche markets which together represents far less than 0.1% of the global health expenditures, but represents some of the most exciting healthcare technologies. There is an increasing interest from investors and industry as new technologies and products are being marketed or under development. Following the release of the most recent expert reports about Proton Therapy and Nuclear Medicine, MEDDraysintell will very soon publish its new report dedicated to Brachytherapy.

If you are interested in receiving this newsletter and the following ones, please just send us your contact details at: peg@medraysintell.com
